“A Message from the President”

Reminder:

• In-person brokerage activities on site at the property permitted by appointment with no more than five (5) people, in addition to the broker, on site with strict social distancing.

• Face Coverings Required for brokers, clients, and industry partners for all in-person activities. Brokers may not provide services to any client who does not wear a face covering.

Due to the demand right now most appointments are being scheduled on the half hour. If you are going to miss your slot, out of respect for the homeowner and your peers, communicate with the list agent immediately to reschedule or find out who has the next appointment to ask that Realtor if they are willing share their time with you.

I know the market is frantic right now and we are all desperate to get our clients access. Please remember to be professional, courteous and gracious during this time. Our ultimate responsibility is to the public if we work together I believe all of these problems to be solvable. Thank you for your consideration!!

Eric
